- 1. We encourage you to create a user profile for the World We Want web platform at www.worldwewant2015.org/register. Visit the civil society consultation homepage at www.worldwewant2015.org/post2015hlp to answer the consultation questions.
- 2. When answering a question, please enter your name, organization (if applicable) and your country in the fields provided above the comment box on each input web page when providing a response to a question. Please only indicate an organization if you are officially submitting on behalf of the organization.
- 3. Contributions must be no more than 2500 characters (approximately 400 words) per question. There is a technical character limit on the input web pages. Please do not submit multiple responses to a question in order to exceed the technical limit. Additional submissions beyond the first one entered will be deleted. The same word limit applies to submissions that must be sent via email due to low Internet bandwidth.
- 4. The same, or extremely similar, answer cannot be used across multiple questions. If this happens, the submission will not be considered in any place that it appears.
- 5. Responses to the questions must be submitted by 23:59 GMT on 11 January 2013. This deadline applies for both those responding through the online consultation platform or through email. Reminder: email submissions option is only for contributors who do not have Internet bandwidth sufficient to post responses online.
- 6. Submissions in English are strongly encouraged, but submissions in French and Spanish will also be considered.
- 7. The consultation inputs will not be moderated but they will be constantly monitored. Please respect the code of conduct for the web site.
